Comments	This truly vast building despite its laudable intentions is out of all proportion to the local environment being hugely vast in comparison with chichester cathedral. It also cannot be as environmentally good as it would seem as hundreds of truck journeys would be needed to fulfill its operation . Coming from far and wide. It would be so much better to build 4 smaller waste disposal units to satisfy the needs of the county and shorten the travel to and from it . This monstrous project is so dominating and besides which we all should be cutting down hugely on waste so that projects of this size should in the future no longer be tenable. This apparently environmentally good project is taking focus away from what really needs to be done and that is to drastically cut waste. With utmost sincerity Imgrid Mair
