Having a facility like this on my doorstep is such a handy thing to have. With other sites having closed in recent years and Recycle Southern being a last remainer, I believe they need our help to grow. With the right supports and structures put in place to dampen noise, and dust etc. I don't see why there would be an issue. I live within a mile of the Elbridge site and I have to say, it's great to see a local company thriving. It's a Yes from me. In times of economic hardship, having a FREE hardcore disposal site at the top of my road is brilliant. They are a company that I'm sure will care about the local community and surrounding areas, along with the wildlife. Being a recycling company it works in their favour to promote sustainability.
