When it may concern,

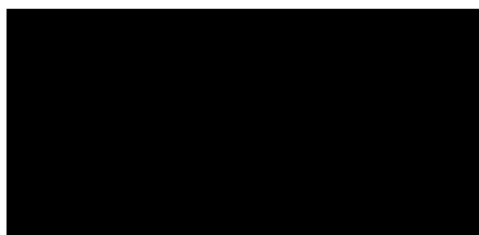

I am writing to express my extreme concern at the plan to start filling in the Washington quarry with waste. Firstly, the impact on the environment and local wildlife will be severe. There are several species that call the quarry their home and this action will wipe out.

Secondly, I am very worried about the consequences to health of 500 trucks a day taking waste to the dump and carrying extracted metals away. I used to live in Rowton in Hertfordshire and an entire generation of children grew up with breathing difficulties from all the pollution created from excessive traffic through the town. The Washington roundabout on the A24 is already gridlocked and 500 more trucks a day will make this even worse.

My wife and I have two young children and their future, both the environment they live in and their health, is at risk.

I urge you to oppose this action plan for the quarry as the issues involved go far beyond just waste disposal.

Yours sincerely,
