

Dear Sir,

Please find attached pictures of Great Crested Newts found at Sandhill Farm, Washington, next to the quarry boundary, on 24.09.21. These have been registered with the ARC. I also live next to the quarry boundary and have seen, photographed and registered many GCN. I have already objected to the way the limited GCN survey was conducted and now with these recent finds it's clear the GCN survey is flawed as they obviously live in and around the quarry. The current GCN survey must therefore be discounted until a more accurate one is undertaken in the next breeding season.

Kind Regards
