Comments	I moved down from London to Sussex 7 years ago and part of the appeal was the quaint and historic market town of East Grinstead I commute 3 days pw via E Grinstead, do my weekly shopping at Sainsbury in the town and as a family we either use Scott's Cinema or eat out there monthly. It is a town I know well and find it beyond my comprehension that the Council would even countenance pushing 35 HGVs through there given the narrow streets and current parking restrictions!?! Also I don't think it's fair to further restrict parking in the town centre to support the financial success of a private business venture Darren
