Comments	East grinstead is already overwhelmed with traffic to the point where locals are caught up in it every single day. Adding more HGVs to that is only going to make this worse. The proposed routes for this journey is incredibly dangerous, they are narrow winding roads, with no pavements and are already in very bad condition. You cannot safely get a HGV down that road without there being accidents and near misses, I speak from experience of several near misses on that road with HGVs. There are points where lorries and cars cannot pass one another along saint hill road and there are often people walking these roads - this change will absolutely lead to accidents and potentially deaths as pedestrians will not be safe.
