Comments	The scale of the industrial development is too big for the rural area in which it sits. The design proposes a chimney which will be 85m high. This in an area surrounded by low level residential housing and fields. It is completely out of keeping with the village and it's rural asthetic. I am also concerned about increased vehicle movements, particularly from heavy good vehicles. The narrow roads are already extremely busy with local traffic, and adding high numbers of heavy good vehicles, is dangerous for the community which they will have to travel through. We already have a number of buildings sites with construction traffic continuously coming and going at all hours, leaving the roads in a state of disrepair and making my a lot of noise. The thought that this could be a permanent state of affairs is extremely distressing and not fair on a community who have chosen to live in a small village environment rather than an industrial estate. The development is out of proportion to what is appropriate in a community like this, and will have a detrimental effect on the health, safety and welfare of the people who live nearby.
