Comments	The proposal for this sight in Ford will be an absolute travesty, not only for Ford but for the whole of the area. It will be visible from Bognor, Arundel and Littlehampton, if not further. Ford is not an industrial area, it is rural. This facility will ruin all the surrounding towns and villages with lorry pollution, not only diesel fumes but from the litter and rubbish that come out of the back of the lorries, as already occurs from Virador and Grunden lorries. Ford is the flattest and most open piece of land for miles, hence its use as an airfield. The road infrastructure has not been improved since the nineteenthirties and cannot cope with the current traffic. A structure of this magnitude should not be situated in a flat, rural area but instead be hidden in an old quarry or on the site of an old power station in an existing industrial area. If this structure is given the go ahead, the members of West Sussex County Council should be prosecuted for vandalism, for this is nothing short vandalism on a gargantuan scale. It beggars belief. This is not withstanding all the other environmental and pollution issues.
