Comments	It is wrong to build this incinerator on so many levels The views from the historic town of Arundel and the South Downs National Park, which is an area of outstanding natural beauty, will be destroyed by the ugly chimney which will be the highest in a radius of 15 miles. The lorries arriving every few minutes from London, Hampshire, Surrey and other places will create havoc on the unclassified roads that lead to the proposed site are wholly unsuitable. It will cause chaos and pollution and many of these roads which are badly maintained will deteriorate further. Lives of the local people will be put at risk if they are walking or cycling along them as there are no footpaths/cycle paths in some areas. The lorry drivers drive way too fast and have no care other than to deliver their load then go back for the next. Why oh why has this project even been allowed to get to this stage. It beggars belief it should be near roads that can handle lorries not country lanes!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!
