Comments	We should be protecting the County not destroying it. We should be removing the Gas Tank as it's an out-dated eye-sore rather than adding something even worse to the sky-line. Our roads will not be able to cope with the heavy truck traffic this will bring and we do not want more roads to be built to cope with it. The Council should be looking for employment and revenue generation schemes in the hitech field rather than this kind of venture. The chimney will presumably be fed on a 24/7 basis which means the operator will need a large stock of waste held on site in case of any supply interruption. That waste, even if in plastic wrapped blocks as I have seen on other sites, attracts vermin. In an effort to maintain tonnage through-put, the waste suppliers engage in "mission creep" in the allowable types of waste they deliver which is never noticed. This in turn effects emissions. I repeat, the Council should concentrate on attracting different, smarter, commercial enterprise than this. Block it now.
