Comment for planning application WSCC/036/20

Comments	It would be great if the heat generated by the plant (which the application documents say could be made available) could be used to heat the new homes proposed very close to it on Ford Airfield. This was part of the original Eco-town plan at Ford which had a recycling plant at its centre. Such a plan would use heat which would otherwise be wasted and prevent the new housing from having domestic heating which is not environmentally friendly such as oil or gas.
