Comments	Although I agree with some of the environmental benefits of the use of waste to generate energy, the scheme planned for Ford is totally unacceptable. From studying some of the plans, the height of the proposed tower and associated buildings will blight the landscape and are not in keeping with the semi rural/coastal environment. The emissions from this plant will also be carried from the prevailing winds to Arundel, Littlehampton and potentially eastern Chichester as well as all of the viplayed and hamlets in between. I also think that there will be a significant detrimental impact on the beaches along the south coast as well as local views from historic monuments such as Arundel Castle. In summary we do need these facilities but this is the wrong location and an alternative needs to be found.
