Comments	The Estate I live on is currently threatened by the impact of the A27 road development - it has recognised blighted properties. It is now threatened with a damaging environmental impact from the proposal as it is in direct line with the prevailing wind. This is primarily a rural residential estate with many residents in their late years hoping to pass them in peace and quiet. The proposed development would seriously impact the quality of life of many who have contributed widely to the actual existence of this country in wartime and into helping make it into the country that it is.
