Comments	This is a ridiculous planning application. Firstly, this is a towering monstrosity of a building within an area of natural beauty. How can we allow a single ugly building eclipse the iconic and historic Arundel Cathedral and Castle. I have lived in the area for all my 52 years for a number of reasons - the beautiful backdrop of the South Downs, good quality country / sea air and a slow / peaceful way of life. Whilst i can accept housing developments are required (although not happy about it!) to go ahead and build an incinerator in Ford does not make sense. The existing B road infrastructure cannot cope with the current traffic that's not taking into account the numerous new proposed housing developments popping up everywhere in the area. Lorries already speed through our village roads increasing noise pollution and this can and will only lead to further pollution and immense environmental destruction in an area. The proposed site is close to residential homes, homes bought in good faith for the 'countryside'. As mentioned above, there have been in the last year a number of planning applications for additional houses locally, some 500 plus I believe. No improvement of infrastructure and no thought for a community that has bought into the 'village' life. This is an ill though application and one that needs to be rejected as it will affect 1000's of people. For once, ,maybe the decision makers will think about the community they serve and not about profit. There must be other suitable sites in Sussex. Like the others have said, this is a very simple NO.
