Objection

The plans for this have been kept very quiet. As someone who has recently recovered from Covid, but has been left with lung damage, breathing difficulties and fatigue, this sort of facility, within 'drifting' distance is very bad news. The building will be so close to existing and planned housing which seems nonsensical. It is just too close to a substantial number of houses in different towns and villages. It is impossible to know the types of hidden waste processed and resulting fumes that will be generated by this facility and the health and environmental impact it will have. This is an area that produces food and the plants and animals will absorb particles that will be consumed by us and others. Water courses will also be affected and this will potentially affect the health of our children. From an environmental point of view, the effects of this heat generation, however the energy will be captured, will cause an environmental impact that I do not consider to have been fully appraised or appreciated. It would be far better to encourage the reduction in waste and consumption in the first place. Please consider alternatives that do not pollute in the same way. Thank you. Liz Brooks
