Comments	I 100% object to the demolition and the huge build proposed on the Ford site. It would be an an absolute eyesore. It is far too close to many homes. Our lovely area along the south coast has already been destroyed by the ridiculously huge number of new houses. Our roads are a nightmare with almost always traffic holdups through too much traffic in our area. When I was young, we had green fields and open spaces all around us. All we have now is one big concrete housing development. Towns and villages are just joining up with no space in between. The emissions, smell, noise and traffic this new build would bring doesn't bear thinking about. I hope common sense will prevail and the planning application for this build will be refused.
