Comments	We are currently living in a climate crisis. We need to move away from oil and gas production to avert imminent catastrophe. The IPCC has made that totally clear. The potential contamination is a clear and huge risk. This is clear. Granting permission to further oil or gas exploration is suicidal. For the sake of the children and what they will endure if we do not level off the curve that is rocketing us towards 3-4% temperature rise, we must please move away from non renewable energy. Blood will be on the hands of those that do not act urgently to avert man made climate change.
