Comments	I am seriously concerned about fracking, in general. I used to believe that Fracking would only be a problem for you if you lived within a few hundred meters of the drill site due to noise, disruption etc. However, it is now clear that fracking Carrie's with in huge risks to the infrastructure and services to households in the whole district - in particular the risk of contamination of household drinking water. It is completely irresponsible to carry on test drilling until we have found a way of making it as safe as drilling in the North Sea.
