I am objecting to the proposal of Angus energy applying for an exploratory drilling licence at Balcombe based on the evidence of an independent hydrology report finding that all sections of the well were not sound and have the potential to crack and shift. Seismic activity has been proven as a result of drilling for oil and gas elsewhere within the weald basin and in other areas such as Lancashire. The governments chief scientist has suggested that this methodology of oil and gas abstraction can not be done without the very strong possibility of causing seismicity that can harm aquifers and house structures. An increase of HGV's will have a considerable impact on both pollution and safety. WSCC will be going against the efforts to meet climate change targets and would be incredibly irresponsible for the impact this out dated technology will leave for future generations. Each time an energy company is granted permission for exploration it leaves a very wide door open for more companies to follow suit which will inevitably have a much grater and negative impact all round. Please please refuse this planning application Thank you!
