Comments	I'm severely dyslexic so apologies for any spelling or grammatical errors but Firstly I dispute the suitability of such a thing in such a small setting, as the traffic and roads aren't set for heavy commercial vehicles. And already signs to say no hgv on Ford road and huge issue with size of road Also the building etc doesn't take into account any of the surrounding areas. The effect on all the historic features such as listed buildings/ conservation area. The Dust and odour, fumes etc even though monitored it will be open to the elements and dependant on the prevailing winds etc The Impact on the vegetation and the trees and hedgerows. The Impact on natural environment including animals and their habitat, and homes planned within extremely close proximity Not to mention the Noise and disturbance of roads used to avoid peak times etc and if used at peak times delays etc Environmental reasons Loss of trade historic areas covered or hidden by huge construction
