Comments	I am objecting to this due to its size , the impact the lorries will have on the roads, pollution and risk to health, proximity to a proposed housing development, visual impact from miles around, encourages reduction to recycling and reuse of rubbish . Not just local waste but from miles around. There is no need as one is being built in Horsham. There is far too much building now, houses, plants etc and while there might be plans for schools and health there is no plan to improve roads. The main road in Yapton is too busy, the traffic goes too fast and you just keep adding to the problem with more houses and this plant will make it even worse with lorries. When we live here 25 years ago we didn't have any of the problems with flooding and traffic that we have now all due to the poor planning from ADC.
