Comments	<input type="text" value="This is an outrage! The last thing we need in this area is this plant. Why not use all this money to create less waste? Buy recycling bins and put them next to all public rubbish bins so people out and about can recycle? Or use it to plant more trees so we can suck some of the carbon out of the air? Or any one of the thousands of other better ideas out there? We shouldn't be creating more ways to deal with trash, we should be eliminating trash from being created in the first place. This plant is not a solution, it's a way to maintain a problem. The health consequences for all of us in West Sussex will be devastating. It's already hard enough to find truly clean air- people come from far and wide to our area as tourists to enjoy the cleaner air we have. Why would you risk that by approving this plant? Do you want to breathe what this plant will put out? Do you want your children and grandchildren to breathe all of that polluted air? I sure don't! There are so many other things that can be done to help our rubbish problem other than this plant. Please, for your sake, our sake, and the sake of all those in the future, please do not approve this plant!"/>
