Comments	What an absolute disgrace! We were looking at the area as a possible move location, it is the perfect rural location and yet easy access to all services. However once this monstrosity is built there will be constant noise from the plant and the never ending noise from the constant lorries. Should I mention the fumes and smell which will no doubt lead to an increase in chest related illnesses/diseases. How on earth can anyone justify this? Why isn't it being located in an industrial area where the impact would be felt less. This is nothing but a disgrace and should not even be considered for approval
