Comment for planning application WSCC/011/21

Type of Comment	Objection
Comments	There are a large number of existing houses in Ford, Yapton and Climping, in addition many new houses are currently being built, and substantial housing developments have been granted planning permission and more even larger ones are proposed in the close proximity of this proposed waste recycling and incinerator. The risks are just too high to locate this in such a populated area. The roads in the area are not suitable for the additional lorry movements, and an additional 200 + lorry movements a day on Ford road is considerable and not negligible as described in the application! With the increased housing in the area which is already impacting the A259, and improvements like the extra capacity of the new Ford Road/ A259 roundabout will be swamped with the additional car traffic from the new developments which will be using Ford road so not able to cope with the additional lorry traffic. The majority of the A259 in the immediate area is all single carriageway so limited capacity. This is becoming a densely populated residential area, so the risks to human health, inevitable noise pollution, and increased lorry traffic make this proposal totally unsuitable for this residential area.
