Comments	The plan to erect such a large factory with an enormously tall smoking chimney in an area of low-rise development and within an area surrounded by trees, farmland and small house is totally out of keeping and incongruous. It will be a huge blight on the area. Whilst the proposed chimney will be seen from miles around the fumes and pollution will fall indiscriminately on everyone for miles in every direction. The distress and lung discomfort it will cause people living and working in the surrounding area will create yet another burden for the NHS, and the already out of date technology of this plant will cause misery and discomfort for many people with breathing difficulties, to say nothing about the financial cost of additional care for the sufferers. Whilst this proposed plant may be "greener" than landfill it certainly isn't "green" and must be vigorously opposed.
