Comments	With the rest of the world trying to embracing Zero Waste and moving away from incineration, how can it be right that West Sussex County Planning are even considering building this massive rubbish incinerator. If this facility is approved, it will not only be a decision that West Sussex Planning will be ashamed of, but will also be something that our children and grandchildren will rightfully be able to ask us "did you do anything to try to stop this"? I object to this 100%
