Objection

I object in the strongest terms to the building of the Ford Incinerator (WSCC/011/21) for the following reasons: 1)The visual impact of such a building will ruin any views not only from the SDNP but the coastal strip as well. In addition the "plume" from the chimney (ies) will be an eyesore over even greater distances. 2)Does the area really need more incinerator capacity which appart from being incompatible with all the new housing being constructed within "it's" range - particulate discharge for one; an increase in HGV movements on minor roads on top of the estimated thousands of additional private car journeys expected to take place due to the decision to only part complete the new A29. 3) Incineration stops recycling, surely whatever the filters etc. Installed it will add to global warming. 4) There will no doubt be great ideas put forward for filtration etc., etc. but certain sure as the unit ages it will fail more often. JUST DO NOT LET IT BE CONSTRUCTED. Remember all those safe AC units that spread Legionnaires Disease as they aged. To sum up apart from being a polluting, road jamming eyesore it may well end up as a health hazardo.
