Comments	Visual impact of 13 storey chimney is unacceptable. Will effect south downs national park. noxious fumes will spread in all directions. Arun DC have large number of houses, thousands, planned or already being built within 5 miles of this incinerator, consider the effect on those households, not to mention the effect on property prices. Consider the effect on schoolchildren. If WSCC has a large incinerator will this not reduce the amount of recyclingthat is acheived. How many more lorry movements will this facilty create. Are therte any plans to improve local roads to accomodate these movements? Is there evidence that incineration generates green energy as well as solar or wind power? I think not. Why add to green house gas production when governments around the world are seeking to reduce levels everywhere.
