Comments	It would be completely wrong for permission to be given for this planning application to go ahead. The location of this incinerator is not compatible with the new primary and secondary schools being built as part of Arun District council's key strategic site plan which includes an additional 1500 houses on Ford airfield. Residents and particularly children's health is bound to be affected as incineration will affect air quality. We live in a beautiful part of the country and the site of these horrible looking huge towers will just destroy and affect the views of the South Downs National Park and it would in fact incentivise people to start moving out of the area instead of attracting new residents to occupy the houses being built. In addition to the above our local roads will not be able to cope with the size and weight of the lorries that will not only be there during the building works but will be with us forever . West Sussex has enough incineration sites and there is absolutely no need for yet another incineration site right on the doorstep of children's schools.
