Comments	We don't need another one of these plants in West Sussex, we have one in Lancing already. It will be an eyesore to our fragile countryside, not to mention all the extra traffic that it will produce as well. This is really not a good idea! What we need is more recycling in West Sussex, what little the council does actually accept in the recycling bins is quite frankly pathetic. West sussex needs to get serious about recycling & not only recycling things they can make a profit on! Just to throw everything else in to an incinerator which even with the best will in the world, will produce polluting particulates which is no good for man nor beast
