| Comments                                     | How can this project even be considered with everything we have finally acknowledged in recent years - and commitments made - in relation to LOWERING CARBON emissions and REDUCING POLLUTION? This huge investment locks into a system which will long-term demand feeding from waste which SHOULD NOT BE PRODUCED, distracting from the need to tackle the waste problem at source. Instead, the council should concentrate on reducing waste - composting organic matter and upgrading recycling facilities. Decisions need to be made for long-term conservation of the character, biodiversity, and protection of soil and air quality of this historic and beautiful area, which is both populous and attracts visitors. Don't duck the waste issue with the outdated thinking behind this monstruously destructive project. |
