| Comments              | This is an objection to the proposed Ford incinerator, it is an application which must be refused. The world, our planet earth is suffocating under the weight of carbon emissions, seriously declining natural resources and environmental degradation to a human-life threatening degree. How can an incinerator even be on the table? We should be recycling everything - anything which cannot be recycled for which the only option for waste disposal is incineration should be banned. An incinerator therefore must not be given approval for those two reasons - all resources are now precious and must be recycled and the emission impact of incineration is completely untenable in the face of what we have to do to reverse climate change. I'm sure those who have the power to decide this application know all this already. It's a no-brainer. Look your kids, grand kids, loved ones, fellow human beings in the eye and refuse it. |
