AIR POLLUTION

Up until now incinerator emissions have been limited by EU standards, which the industry and the UK government has looked to weaken. From next year they will be decided domestically.

HOUSE PRICES

Are you concerned about how this proposed incinerator and it's negative effects might affect house prices?

If you are against this, please write your name, house number and any comments you have and pop this back through my door at number 8, today or before noon on Thursday 13th of May.

Thank you!
