Comments	<input type="text" value="In these days of climate crisis, how on earth can it be acceptable to destroy a diverse forestb with its precious flora and fauna, to extract clay when right next to it is a field presumably with the same clay far more readily and less destructively available. Whilst accepting that bricks may be needed for local infrastructure, this is clearly not in any way the location to accept this industrial extraction and other activities. Please refuse this application."/>
