Comments	Virgin land that has taken 100s of years to develop will be destroyed in a few years. The impact on the infrastructure is going to be far reaching to this rural idle. Having lived and now a land owner in Loxwood for 50 years, I am deeply concerned about the industrialisation of this peaceful, environmentally valuable land and the associated heavy traffic that will be generated. I am aware that the previous local brickwork was small and for local use, indeed my degree thesis was entitled 'The Economic Impact on Sussex of the development of Brickworks'. As a result of this I know that more commercial sites with modern infrastructure and communications exist within the area. Or is it just to get a recycling plant?
