Objection

My objection stands with the current circumstances of the lack of road crossings in Rudgwick and Bucks Green. If Rudgwick is going to be directly affected by more vehicles passing through, road crossings need to be considered alongside the clay pits proposal. There are many families with young children already finding it difficult to cross the road safely every day as there is a serious lack of crossings in the whole area. Adding extra traffic, especially large vehicles, makes an already dangerous situation even more dangerous. I'm referring to the whole of Church Street and Guildford Road/A281. It's not acceptable to put young children in further danger by granting permission for the clay pits to go ahead before fixing the existing issues.
