Comments	You are proposing to destroy an area of green land, home to many species of wildlife, as well as an area popular with the local community, in favour of - what is effectively - landfill. The local infrastructure cannot cope with the heavy duty traffic on the roads. I work in Cranleigh and regularly use the routes through Loxwood and the surrounding areas to get to work, which are already busy with vehicles. The strain on the local community due to increased heavy vehicle transport is bad enough. Don't make it worse by damaging the environment even more. West Sussex should remain a place of countryside not over developed and a dumping ground with bad and dangerous traffic.
