Objection

To whom it may concern,

I wanted to object as we have bought a house in loxwood and I sincerely feel this would change the small village of loxwood for the worse. I have seen first hand how damaging noisy lorries on country roads are, both to the roads and the environment. These roads are not built for this amount of traffic or weight. The quaint village of loxwood is characteristically quiet and well preserved, this development is going to have an extremely negative impact on anyone that lives there, human or animal!! This is a time where we should be looking to protect areas that offer peace and fresh air , not destroying the little places we have left! There will be nothing left by the time I have grandchildren which is deeply upsetting. It's not suitable for this area, it's light and noise pollutant causing, it's going to have huge environmental consequences.
