Type of Comment	Objection
Comments	I am a keen amateur botanist and have founds lots of interesting and rare plants in Pallinghurst woods including; butterfly orchids, birds nest orchids and Violet Helleborines. I have also seen adders and slow worms which are all declining in numbers. I think given the state the planet is in, because of us/humans, it is a disgrace that our country which is supposedly a world leader in environmental issues, is even considering this development.
