Comments	<input type="text" value="I have lived in Loxwood for more than 11 years and seen my family grow up here. I rarely object to local planning applications but feel I cannot ignore this proposed development. The planned site is completely unsuitable to such a development. The area is a peaceful haven for wildlife and is close to a number of footpaths and bridleways as well as shared access. It includes large areas of ancient woodland. The footpaths, bridleways and roads are heavily used by walkers, children, cyclists, horses and there riders. This development would have destructive impact on all of these. Building the facility and access will cause considerable noise pollution, dust, excess waste , destruction of habitats, woodlands and hedgerows. It will present a safety concern for local people. I for one would be concerned for the safety of my children with the increased construction traffic and waste lorries coming too and from the facility. Once the facility is constructed the impact on the destructive impact will last for decades and generations. The destructive impact of this facility on the local area and the risk to safety of the local community cannot be justified. There is no justifiable demand for clay in the local area. Demands are already met for the next quarter of a century from existing facilities. The long term impact of landfill, noise, dust, safety and destruction will remain for decades. The area will never be the same again and those habitats will be destroyed permanently. I only hope the local council can see sense and the financial motives that truly lie behind this proposal."/>
