Comments	I wish to object to this proposal. As a resident of Rudgwick this development would create increased traffic passing through the village and also increased noise and pollution. Loxwood and the surrounding areas are a wild life haven and this development would create unnecessary upset to both animals and humans alike. The narrow roads leading to Loxwood and this proposed site are not built for heavy construction vehicles. Additionally, the heavy vehicles will cause more damage to the already damaged roads in this area. Surely, there is a better place to do this rather than disrupting the countryside and surrounding areas. Surrey is supposed to be an area of outstanding natural beauty, however I don't think a clay pit quite fits the bill. Additionally, from conversions I have had with other residents they are not interested in the clay but to use the area for landfill and waste which is totally unacceptable. It seems greed has taken over rather than considering the local area, the wildlife and the residents of the surrounding villages who would be impacted by this proposed development.
