Comments	There are several listed properties along the roads being used for these heavy lorries, our home dating back to 1250s The continued vibration will cause damage to the Horsham stone roof and may cause subsidence These ancient roads are very narrow not made for large vehicles The narrow bends will cause bad accidents collision with joggers, dog walkers and the many more cyclists since people working from home The dust created by the rubble loads will cause pollution and health problems There is enough clay elsewhere it is not needed The ancient woods are used by everyone for the enjoyment for young families and old people who Move out to West Sussex leaving polluted cities We walk regularly in these woods and spotted lots of rare birds dear and other species The destruction of the forest with big lorries passing through, and building this huge plant in the middle of it is ludicrous I very much hope the council will refuse to ruin our environment and safety Leonor Hofmann Hale Farm House
