Comments	My most concern is the increased HGV traffic which will have a severe impact on local villages. I live in Loxwood for nearly thirty years, and I am witnessing endless ongoing housing development which has already increasing the traffic considerably. Loxwood Road (Station Road) is a restricted width carriageway and is not at all suitable for many HGVs. There is a sharp bend at the entrance of Pallinghurst woods (layby) and it is a blind spot especially the vehicles travelling towards from the east and significant increase in HGV traffic volumes will create a severe safety risk for existing road users and pedestrians. The proposed areas are remote and tranquil where bursts with primroses and bluebells in the spring. Who can bear the loss of such beautiful nature by pollutants and noise?! The whole world is awakening of saving the environment and cutting down carbon footprint. This development is completely going wrong direction and it must not go ahead.
