Comments	My understanding is that if this planning application goes through then beautiful, ancient woodland will be destroyed. This will adversely impact wildlife as well as destroying trees. Surely this is a time when we should be trying to keep trees and save our planet? We should be doing all we can to save our planet not destroy it. This is an area of woodland that is much enjoyed by local people with their children and dogs. Wildlife thrives in the woodland. I enjoy walking in these woods and have done for the 23+ years I have lived in the area. If planning goes through then the number of HGVs driving on a daily basis through relatively quiet, countryside villages and quiet country lanes will change the character of these places forever. And what will the claypit achieve? I think it will be very sad if this application is approved. For me it goes against all we should be working towards at this current time, in terms of trying to preserve our planet.
