At a time time when environmental and climate issues are finally being recognised as crucial for the health of mankind and the planet, every remaining ancient woodland and important wildlife habitat such as Pallinghurst Woods is precious and worthy of protection.

We look to the local council to ensure they use their power, professional discernment and humanity to do the right thing for this and future generations:

- to weigh up the short term financial gains of the applicant, Loxwood Claypits, and permanent loss of ancient woodland, against the long term benefits of leaving everything as it is
- to keeping our local country lanes clear of multiple heavy vehicles and associated noise and fumes
- to maintaining current levels of access and pleasure to the many locals who use the area regularly for walking and horse riding
- to protecting the wildlife for whom this is an important home, feeding and breeding ground
- to protecting the rare ancient woodland that we are rightly proud of.

We are counting on you not to let us down.
