Comments	As a young person living in Loxwood, I strongly object to the proposal of clay quarry construction. Whilst there may be claimed benefits to wildlife and conservation etc etc, there is such a plethora of negative impacts on the environment of all Loxwood residents and those in surrounding areas that it is unquestionably for the worst, and the council would not be respecting the residents both old and young by permitting it. Some of these negative impacts are extensive build up of traffic, thoroughfare of lorries and trucks which is disruptive to all, increasing air pollution and noise pollution in what is a small village as it is. Please take on board the wishes of the local people, and myself who will have to live alongside such changes for as long as it continues, and I do not believe there is any positive gain for any residents. The proposal merely serves higher agendas and not that of the people who will be deeply affected by such changes and approved applications.
