Comments	I'm writing to object to the plans for loxwood clay pits, which will affect the woods and surrounding area. I live close to the proposed plan and regularly use the woods for walking the dog and with the children. We enjoy the the wildlife and the peace and quiet which would be ruined if the clay pits is allowed! I have 2 children with mental health problems and I cannot highlight enough how much this would destroy their confidence if their usual peaceful walk was to be interrupted. I also drive regularly to school and visit elderly in-laws using loxwood road from spy lane to the Guildford road, this is a very tight busy road and on most journeys we encounter dog walkers, walkers, horses, horse riding, children. Thankfully I'm always prepared to expect these things around each corner and able to slow and deal with them, I'm not sure a large truck will always be able to do the same and I believe this is an accident waiting to happen! The road is nowhere big enough to have trucks going both ways regularly and would destroy the road and the surrounding edges. I do hope that the people responsible for making this decision do the right thing and refuse planning! If god forbid there was an accident and I have no doubt it would be when and not if! Large trucks and children walking, both on a narrow country lane do not and should not mix!! Kind regards Tracey Wright
