Comments	I have both walked and ridden horses through this woodland for the past forty years. For the local residents and the wider community it has immeasurable benefits as it stands - for exercise, for education and most importantly for social and emotional well-being. For our local wildlife the loss of this ancient woodland would be devastating and would take many decades to recover if at all. I have personally witnessed the sounds of many of our decreasing in number song birds including nightingales and photographed wild orchids. The road network proposed for the arrival and departure of vehicles is not fit for the purpose of such heavy vehicles so frequently, it is a main artery for both cyclists, horse riders and walkers to a network of byways. If these communities share this road with such heavy vehicles an accident is inevitable a death probable. For all these reasons I oppose this application.
