I wish to object to this application.

The site is totally unsuitable from an environmental view.

There are badgers and 4 species of rare protected bats. I fail to see how they are protected if this application goes through.

The access to the site is more than the recommended distance from the main road they will use being the A281, and then the narrow lanes to the site are unsuitable. A clay pit would normally be within a close distance to where the bricks are to be made. This is not the case here.

The site itself will cause noise pollution, light pollution, disturbance to cattle grazing in adjacent fields, the loss of ancient woodland and countless animals lives.

There is no need for another clay pit in the area as WSCC have enough reserves for appox 25 years and one of the sites that they use does not use the type of clay that has been found at Loxwood clay pit proposed site. I believe this is more about the construction waste facility.

The site access crosses over an existing right of way that is heavily used and will put walkers, horse riders and their animals in danger from HGV lorries. A proposed diversion to one of the other footpaths is not acceptable, It means quite a diversion and states temporary but would be for 30 years!
