Comments	<input type="text" value="There is no need for a waste site in Loxwood at this location which has completely unsuitable road access for the type of vehicles required to transport the waste. There are enough waste sites already in West Sussex to deal with this kind of waste. This is a remote and quiet location and the Public right of way is used by locals for walking and cycling. The running of large trucks here is likely to cause accidents and health risks to locals. This is a greenfield site with wildlife such as bats and badgers living in the woodland. These woodlands should be protected for both human and animal continued use and NOT cut down for dumping/recycling waste."/>
